

8th Annual International Nursing Simulation/Learning Resource Centers Conference June 10 -13, 2009

2009 INACSL CONFERENCE

The 8th Annual International Nursing Simulation/Learning Resource Centers Conference will address The Gateway to the Future of Simulation. Whether its lab management, high-fidelity simulation, psychomotor skill education, or evaluation of learner performance this conference offers it all. In the face of a major nursing shortage and funding challenges, the nursing simulation/learning resource center plays a critical role in nursing education and practice. So, if you come from a large or small academic institution, well-funded or not, or hospital education step through the gateway and meet us in St. Louis for a stimulating, exciting conference and opportunity to network with national and international colleagues.
